CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

On behalf of the Canadian Medical Association (CMA), thank you for the opportunity to once again be a part of this year's induction ceremony. We are proud to support the work of the Canadian Medical Hall of Fame and to join you in acknowledging the outstanding work of our country's health care providers and researchers.

The events of this past year have demonstrated more than ever their critical roles – whether it's been advising governments on the pandemic response, caring for severely ill patients, finding new ways for Canadians to safely access care, or creating effective treatments and vaccines in record time.

At the CMA, as we look to learn from the experience of the pandemic and create a stronger health care system for the future, we take inspiration from the dedication, innovation and ingenuity of this year's laureates.

Thank you for your incredible contributions and congratulations.
